As from the above scheme, most of the areas are located within the already closed area. However, area No.8 located close to approaches to ports Taman and Kavkaz, therefore we recommend the vessels to proceed with caution in this area.

3. Travel, crew and logistic restrictions

- Restrictions of flights were imposed the following airports in South and central parts of Russian Federation until 25 April 2022.

- | | |
|-----------------|---------------|
| - Anapa | - Voronezh |
| - Gelendzhik | - Kursk |
| - Krasnodar | - Lipetsk |
| - Rostov-on-Don | - Simpheropol |
| - Belgorod | - Elista |
| - Bryansk | |

Airport Sochi is presently working as a hub for South Russia region. International flights are available.

- Three ports are closed for service in Russian East Arctic region:
 - Beringovskiy
 - Providenie
 - Egvekinot

The mentioned seaports are relatively small and specialized for loading coal cargoes.

4. Sanction update

- The Greek Coast Guard announced yesterday that the Russian-flagged vessel LANA, with a deadweight of 115,000 tones and 19 Russian crew members on board, was detained off the island of Evia as part of European Union sanctions against Russia. As per information from representative of Greek coastguard, a cargo was not seized.

The MT PEGAS was built in Japan in 2003. On 16 June last year, the vessel was registered by the Russian Maritime Register of Shipping. The vessel's operator is Dagestan-based TransMorFlot LLC. The owner of the vessel is OOO PSB Leasing (on 22 February, in response to Russia's recognition of the People's Republics of Donbass, the US Ministry of Finance imposed sanctions against Russia's Vnesheconombank and Promsvyazbank and their subsidiaries, including OOO PSB Leasing).

Our comments:

In accordance with our findings, the current name of the vessel is MT "LANA" (since 01 March 2022) and indeed, it was under ownership of PSB Leasing LLC since 2020, but on 02 June 2021 ownership was transferred to M Leasing LLC and subsequently to the operating company Transmorflot Ltd in March 2022 (Data taken from IHS).

In view of the above, it should be noted by Members performing operations with Russian/ ex-Russian vessels, that in some cases, a vessel may be detained/ or any other problems may arise even based on the vessel flag/register/ownership history.

- EU ban for Russian vessels

Presently about 6,000 Russian-flagged vessels have to meet with EU restriction for calling EU ports. It has been known that for Russian vessels with a cargo from so called “list of exceptions”, including agriculture/humanitarian cargoes, energy consumables, gas, medicine and coal (until August 2022) are allowed to call EU port against the special permission from relevant Administration.

It has been announced by Government of Belgium that the permit for Russian vessels to enter the port will provide for the right to carry out loading and unloading operations only with permitted types of goods. Until now, there are 9 from 12 Russian-flagged vessels operating in North Europe are fall within such a permission.

Our comments:

It should be noted that due to a number of exceptions to relevant EU sanctions measure, any specific lists of sanctioned ships, as well as specific list of a cargoes was not provided to EU countries, effectively leaving all disputed issues to the discretion of European port authorities. This could lead to different interpretations of the bans in different EU countries, despite the community's existing single market and single transport space principle. For example, if a ship became suitable for discharging of part of her cargo in Belgium, she will not be allowed to discharge the second part in France.
